

Black Beauties from Bennett Truks

Contributed by easyrider2004
Thursday, 05 October 2006
Last Updated Friday, 03 October 2008

Fresh news from Mr. Bennett: he's run a batch of the new Vector trucks through the powdercoating process and made 'em black. They're done, and they're shipping to shops, this week.

The black Vectors look pretty badass, with the Bennett logo on the baseplate and the face of the hanger polished bright, to reveal the "Bennett Vector" and stripes. For more photos and information, click into this story... Official inquiries to info@bennetttruks.com or just click the Bennett ad you see here on the 'Fish.

Okay, here are more photos of the new Black Bennetts, mounted on a pair of sweet Warptail reissues.

They still retail for $27.95, MSRP, still have the Big Red Rubbers and still use the same Grade 8 kingpins. The black powdercoating looks glossy and deep.

If you want to know more, or see these photos a little larger, check the Forums!