[The epic team of Saft and Boneless has released their trailer for their upcoming movie "Roadbuzz". We are supposed to be waiting on a writeup, but we are just way too excited]

In their own words, Road Buzz! "looks at downhill skateboarding through an artist's eyes." Film cohorts Saft and Boneless follow UK riders on a tour of European mountains, interviewing some of the characters along the way to examine issues of trust, fear, obsession and motivation and to try to draw universal conclusions about the activity." Check out the Saft and Boneless Trailer Page or go below the fold for more info.

While you are checking out S&B you should read the FAQ , cool background info.
