

THE 'FISH REPORT

Longboards Rule the Pool!

Check out Alva, Edwards and JT ripping longsticks in Fillmore, Calif. at the grand opening of SoCal's newest city skate park! Designed by the O.G. Longboarder, Jeff Tatum, the park features fast, flowing lines, a gnarly, backyard pool style bowl that these guys, Bennett Harada and more ripped the hell out of and pretty cool stairs, rails and trick features. If you're ever up north of L.A., road-trippin' the parks like SkateLab & Ojai, hit this thing. When you're in town, ask everyone you see where the hell the A&W drive-in is, too.

SILVERFISH LONGBOARDING

Since our last report, the crap really hit the flapper with outlaw races and the backlash. If it ain't skater frats checkin' yer email name to decide if you're cool enough to join their gang, it's the overwrought guardians of Malibu plastering signs on canyon roads or the Kook of Conshocken callin' SWAT to defend her parking garage from skaters that leave no trace... Don't let it get you down! Longboarding rules The World and there's plenty of stoke to offset the douchebag factor: Colabo's Fellowship of the Bearing just came out in Hi-Def and it will juice your lemon — the 'Fish popped the newest summer stoke wheel, Retro's FreeRide in March, right after Zak Maytum's bigger & better Venom bushings came out — Mike Furst unveiled " the 'Fish", our killer longboard bag you can only get from oldmanarmy.com — Silverfish stickers are popping up on lockers and cop cars on three continents so far — the Maryhill Festival of Speed is goin' down for sure... see you out there on the intarwebz!

Hell Yes!
